PW: What are some other differences or similarities that you can pinpoint?

MN: The biggest thing I see now as a teacher is that parents and families don't back up the teacher. I can remember if I did something wrong at school I was more scared of my mom than I was of my teacher. But that is not at all the case now. As a teacher, we are scared of what the parents are going to say and do more so than what their kids have done or anything like that.
